

Snazzy Baby Deluxe 3 in 1 Combo Carrier Review and Giveaway

"The ' Mom's Deluxe 3 in 1 Plus Combo Carrier ' the baby carrier specially designed for today's busy parents and their hectic lifestyles. A cool, lightweight, ergonomically designed hip carrier, equally suiting Moms and Dads and developed using Mom's Focus Groups in the USA and Australia.

Parents asked for a lightweight, multi-purpose baby carrier which gave a long time frame of use and gave them choices. Most hip carriers can only be used with your baby facing inwards. Our Combo baby carrier has been developed to allow you to make the decision of what is best at that time."

I have a baby carrier that I am a big fan of for when my kids are newborns. But now that my son is older, he doesn't like the 'tightness' of the sling and it doesn't give the option of facing outward, so we put it away a couple of months ago.

The Snazzy Baby Carrier is a great choice for us now! I had a little trouble in the beginning getting all the straps in the right place, but after watching the video tutorial that they sent with the carrier (and a little practice), I have it all figured out. My son can face inward or outward and he isn't confined in any way. He is such a mommy's boy, so it's nice to be able to 'hold him' but keep my hands free to do what I need to around the house. But it has an ergonomically designed gel based shoulder strap to evenly distribute your baby's weight giving you long use comfort. It still puts some stress on my shoulder after a while, but I don't know of any 'one-shouldered' carrier that doesn't do that. It is designed for children 4+ months (with good head control) up to age 3 (or 37 pounds), but I'm not sure am tough enough to carry my baby in it for that long 😊.

This carrier isn't just used to CARRY your baby. It also serves as a portable high chair restraint! I love products that multi-task! You can use it as a restraint in a grocery cart too! The carrier is light weight and easily fits inside my diaper bag so I can take it with me wherever I go.
