A Review Blog by a Momma Who Loves Fabulous Stuff!

Snazzy Baby, Combo Carrier & Giveaway (Ends 2/21)

One of the biggest challenges I face as a mom is trying to get all my daily tasks done while keeping my baby happy and entertained. My little one is very interested in what I'm doing whether I'm cleaning around the house or making lunch, he always wants to be right in the action!

One of the ways to make this possible is by using the Snazzy Baby Carrier. My little guy loves that when he is in the carrier he can have fun with me and I love that I have my hands free to get things done! Another great feature is that this carrier is designed so that baby can face in towards you or out towards the world. In the past I would have to bring multiple carriers for when my baby wanted to be in different positions (looking out or in).

I also found that the Snazzy Baby Carrier is really easy to use. I have had other carriers that I literally could not figure out how to wear! This one was easy to snap on and go! It is also easy to adjust the straps making it possible to switch the carrier between my size and my husbands size in no time at all! Made of a lightweight, washable material I literally feel like I can throw this in my bag and go. If we have an accident I can easily clean the material.

One of my son's favorite uses of his Snazzy Baby Carrier is when we are out shopping.

He gets tired of the cart or stroller fast and my arms get tired of holding him. In the Snazzy Baby Carrier he is positioned so that he can put his little hands on the cart and help me push as we shop for groceries..Trust me your baby will love this!

Win! One lucky Momma In Flip Flops2 reader will win their choice of product from Snazzy Baby - Knee Pads, Combo Carrier, or Deluxe Travel Chair. To enter visit the site and tell me which of the three products you would like to win and one of the awards that product has won.
