

Giveaway: Toys, gear for babies, plus books and a gift for Mom

Giveaway: Toys, gear for babies, plus books and a gift for Mom

5 of 10

Snazzy Baby Travel Chair

The Man joked the first time I used the travel chair with Ben that I was basically tying our child to a chair. Then he saw the brilliance of it when we were on vacation and staying in a rental condo with no high chair. The travel chair is very flexible, fitting a variety of chairs. It's also great for when you visit friends and family and a high chair is not available. And most restaurants have high chairs, but we were going to a very tiny place one night and, just in case, I tossed the travel chair in the diaper bag. I was glad I did. The place had only two high chairs and, wouldn't you know it, a family with twin babies was there! The travel chair folds up pretty small and is pretty easy to use.

Give it away, give it away, give it away now! We'd love to. But we're not done. What else is in the giveaway? Keep clicking to find out. Then leave a comment on the blog for your chance to win.