

Protect Little Knees with Snazzy Baby Knee Pads Review

I remember when Princess P began crawling, her poor little knees stayed red. Even when she had pants or leg warmers on it didn't really make a difference, they still became irritated. What I wouldn't have given for the Knee Pads from Snazzy Baby.

The Knee Pads from Snazzy Baby can be used on all surfaces and are even approved to be used indoors or out. These all purpose knee protectors are perfect for babies learning to crawl or walk, playground activities for toddlers and can even be used by older children when bike riding, roller skating or playing sports.

Endorsed by Medical Professionals as the ultimate protection for babies who are learning to crawl and walk, the Snazzy Baby Knee Pads help prevent injuries like bruises, cuts and scrapes to your baby's knees. Plus, the uniquely designed "traction beads" on the outside of the Knee Pads give baby just the right amount of traction to crawl properly on all types of floor surfaces without slipping and sliding.

Suitable for use from 4 months to 4 years, Snazzy Baby Knee Pads can provide protection for a variety of activities and can even be used as protectors for your baby's elbows. And, thanks to the medical quality Neoprene they are made of, the Knee Pads are a durable product which enhances movement without restricting circulation.

While Princess P might be out of the crawling stage, that didn't keep her from wanting to try the Snazzy Baby Knee Pads on. The Knee Pads, which stay secure on baby's knees with velcro, are very easy to use and adjust for the perfect fit. P did, however, get down on the floor and give them a "test drive" while she was modeling them. The Knee Pads from Snazzy Baby are perfect for many activities, but I love how they protect baby's sensitive knees when they are learning to crawl.
